

Indo Latin Jazz Ensemble

The Ancient Future Indo Latin Jazz Ensemble is available in trio, quartet, quintet, and sextet formats and includes musicians who have performed with Oregon, Sun Ra, and Herbie Hancock's Headhunters. Drawing inspiration from Brazil, Cuba, India and Spain, the program blends the driving syncopated rhythms of Latin jazz with the asymmetrical rhythmic structures from East Indian music.

Featuring compositions from Mariah Parker's debut release, 'Sangria.'

"This collection of eight original instrumentals by Mariah Parker is just one of many examples of the infusion of East Indian music into Western music, but to my ears one of the most successful...This album grew out of the path-breaking work of Ancient Future, one of the first ensembles to explore the now-active genre of world music."

— AUDIOPHILE AUDITION

"Parker kicks off her solo career with a well textured world beat date that finds her multi-instrumentalist abilities and her wide open ears leading the way. There's nothing but pros on board here who know what to do and they do it in a lively, spontaneous fashion that really grabs you. First class world beat that really covers the bases."

— MIDWEST RECORD

"This is an excellent album from pianist Mariah Parker, whose work is best described as world jazz. Parker brings a wide variety of influences to Sangria, ranging from Indian and Middle Eastern music to Afro-Cuban salsa and Brazilian samba. She obviously appreciates the Eastern-influenced spirituality and mysticism of John Coltrane, Yusef Lateef, Pharoah Sanders, and Lonnie Liston Smith, but her composing also contains elements of everyone from Pat Metheny to Chick Corea. Parker, of course, didn't invent the idea of world jazz... but she keeps it moving forward; Parker takes chances, demonstrating that the fusion of jazz and world music still has plenty of possibilities after all these years" — ALL MUSIC GUIDE
